

What do we offer?

Here at the BIT we offer professional IT services to anyone who needs it outside of the polytechnic itself. These services help those who aren't so proficient in the area of IT, and the client is always satisfied with the level of work.

Learning by Doing

We encourage the student perspective of having a “know how, can do” type of attitude, and encourage the employment of this perspective in real world situations. This hands-on approach delivers a well-rounded confident student into a professional working environment.

Learning Together

We promote and practice collaborative learning between students and potential employers. The result is a deeper and more durable learning experience for all.

What can BAM do for you?

Our business students undertake an internship project, making them readily available for any external business to take them on. As well as gaining work experience within the organization, they undertake a range of activities set by a host organisation.

Connections with external businesses

In our business courses, there is a constant connection with real world businesses. We are always looking for guest speakers to interact with students. With your help we can offer 3rd year students internships and in turn provide a more hands on learning experience.

We want to do more

Our students are always keen for gaining hands-on 'real world' experience, students are always readily available to take on any problem. Whether it may data collection, market research, or simply volunteering, our students are always ready for more!

Lesley Smith, Head of College,
College of Enterprise & Development

lesley.smith@op.ac.nz
Phone +64 3 479 6037
Mobile 021 735 494